THE EISENHOWER EXPERIENCE

Chartered and directed by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, National Defense University (NDU) develops national security leaders through rigorous academics, research and engagement to serve the common defense. NDU's Eisenhower School awards its graduates a Master of Science degree in National Resource Strategy. The program's intensive curriculum focuses on national security studies, economics, defense strategy, resourcing, acquisition, the global industrial base, and strategic leadership.

Develop Executive Leadership Skills

Shape Future National Security Policy

Build Lasting Professional Relationships

Eisenhower's Private Sector Fellows Program offers a small group of private sector leaders the opportunity to participate in Eisenhower's Master's program and establish national security eminence, develop profound industry insights, and influence national security policy and cultivate lasting professional relationships with national security leadership.
